

Country Corner Apple Orchard

Wednesday, September 14th

9:30 - 11:00

Cost: $5.00 per student

Please send cash in a marked envelope by Tuesday, September 13th. Kindergarten and 3rd grade will be going together to the orchard. Students will ride the hay wagon into the orchard, pick apples, hear a story about the life cycle of the apple tree, sample apple juice, and play in the petting zoo. Please dress your child in jeans, tennis shoes, and jackets. We look forward to this fun event with our Kinder Pal buddies!

Scholastic Book Orders for September are due Tuesday, September 13th. If you wish to order books please send the completed order form and money in a marked envelope by tomorrow.

I sent the Pizza Hut Book It home last week and then realized it doesn't start until October. Oh, well...you have a jump start. When your child has completed that ten book reading assignment, you may send it back (signed) in their Monday folder. They won't be due until October 30th so you have plenty of time.

I want to recommend one of the most excellent books on parenting I have ever read. I have read it numerous times and use many of the strategies in my classroom. It is called Parenting with Love and Logic by Jim Fay. One of my parents from last year read it and said it totally changed how they were dealing with some issues with their daughter and she encouraged me to keep recommending it. I have found it to be a very helpful resource.

Thanks for your commitment to the classroom! You are all doing such an excellent job so far! Have a great week!
