

Kindergarten Parents,

Wednesday, February 1st will be an All City dress up day. The children are invited to wear any type of sports jersey as we anticipate the Super Bowl.

January Book It reports are due tomorrow. The new February recording sheets are in your Monday folders. Have fun reading together.

As you begin to think about valentines, I want you to know that we will make a Valentine sack in class to hold all of their cards. The children should purchase a card for each student in the class, including Rebekah, so 20 cards total. You may include candy in the cards if you wish. Please DO NOT address each card individually, but rather just have your child write From, _____ on the back. This makes delivery MUCH easier as they drop one in each bag. Thanks!

I'm sure many of you are following Rebekah on their caring bridge site: www.caringbridge.org/visit/spaderfamily. Thank you for your generosity towards the gift basket for her. I will extend this deadline until tomorrow, Tuesday, January 31st, if you still would like to contribute. I will be giving it to Stephanie later this week, and I know they will be so appreciative. We are working on setting up skype on my computer as Rebekah really wants to see her friends.

Happy Groundhog's Day! THINK SPRING!
